LAKE COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY

AS SEEN BY OUR PRINCIPAL . . .

E. A. Spaulding

In Mr. Spaulding's 35 years at Emerson thousands of boys and girls have entered these doors, that stand today like silent watching sentinels as they have stood in the days gone by. Thousands have lived their days here in both work and play, have graduated with many happy memories and have zone out to do their jobs in the world, whatever they might be chosen to do.

Their voices and their laughter have rang through these halls; the air is vibrant with their presence. Their foot alls have been heard here. The echoes of a passing day leave their marks as each has left his impression on the life here and carried away much to mold his future. Hundred of these footfalls will not be heard again. They will be heard instead, with the passage of time, in the hearts and minds of those they knew and loved. Emerson shall remember them forever because of all the memories we have in common, and it was here that their lives were molded and directed.

Through all of these years as he watched each class come and go, Mr. Spaulding has been the staundh believer in American youth, an inspiring leader, and an outstanding educator, and has helped to further progress at Emerson High School.

Therefore, for his loyalty and devotion to Emerson, we, the Class of 1945, gratefully dedicate this book to him as another way of saying, "Thank you, Mr. Spaulding: Thanks for everything."

Through Thirty-five Years

The oldsters of us have learned that time is an essential part of all changes. Many things that were dramed of in 1909 when the Emerson School made its beginning have become realities as the decades have passed into history. Other things dramed of are still in the process of maturing, and still others have been abandoned as time have given us more light.

In the beginning, Emerson School had the only school auditorium in the world with a stage equipped with a gridforn for handling of scenery (it also had the only swimming pool in a school building in the world.) In the beginning, there were two gymnasiums each 32 feet by 64 feet. There was no shop building. The only manual activity was in room 123. Room 107 was the school system's supply headquarters. A little later, room 107 housed the school print shop, and room 106 housed the school achier shop. This room was later changed to the school Machine Shop. The present typewriting room was at one time the school forge shop, while room 124 was the school foundar.

Near the center of the school garden, along the south side of Sixth Avenue we used to have a small barn in which was kept the team of horses, used to deliver coal to the school bins. A little later the Board of Education purchased some lots along the north side of Sixth Avenue between Carolina Street and the alley west of it. Heere a large brick barn was built to house the team and wagons. In 1924 this barn was enlarged to house the school's forge, foundry, print shop, and auto shop.

In 1912, our two small gymnasiums were built our to the north giving us our present two lower gymnasiums. In 1920 the gymnasiums were built up another story and the rooms now housing the band and orchestra classes were built above the engine room. In 1926, the Primary Building was added to the Emerson upin.

Besides the changes in physical equipment, many changes have occurred in the student body and in the community it serves.

Present day students enjoy oscial activities that are supervised by the Board of Control through its Social Committee. Throughout the school year, we average two or three social committee parties each month of the year. In the early days the community was so opposed to dances that the school dared to have only one or two parties each year. Only sophomores, juniors and seniors could attend parties. The faculty and the community were certain that freshmen were too young to be exposed to the dangers of a school party.

The 1911 graduating class presented the Emerson School with its first good picture. It was a copy of "Mother" by Rembrandt. In 1919 the Emerson School had its first Art Exhibition and made its first considerable addition to its art collection.

Fourteen of our oil paintings were purchased in 1921 at a cost of $33,750.00. Through the years, the school has made additions to its art collection until we now have spent $18,775.51 for pictures.

In the early days we played our football games on a field out at the American Bridge Company's Plant, We remember well the Saturday afternoon when we played Hammond and had what to us then was an enormous sum taken in at the gate. No tickets were sold in advance; all students and adults paid the same admission charge at the gate-namely, twentyfive cents. We took in eighty two dollars on this record breaking game. Later the City Park Board purchased the block just east of Emerson School, and we used it as our football field. In due time, the Board of Education purchased this block from the City Park Board, and it became a part of Emerson School. When night football became the usual thing, the Carnegie Illinois Steel Company made available to us the Gleason Field. Students should appreciate that this field is kept in condition and lighted by the Steel Company, and that schools are permitted to use it at no cost to them.

Our early basketball games were played in the boys' lower gymnasium. At a Whiting game we packed over fourteen hundred spectators into this gymnasium. Then our home games moved to the Armory and were played there until the Memorial Auditorium became available in 1928.

Following World War I in September of 1920, units of the R.O.T.C. were formed in Emerson School with Major W. W. Edwards in charge. At this time began the practice of having the bugle call sounded when the school flag is hoisted each morning and again when the flag is lowered at the end of the day. The practice of all students standing an "attention" twice each day is of twenty-four years' standing.

In 1913, Froebel School was built to become Gary's second full sized school unit. For a year or two the students of both schools played on the Gary High School teams, since both were too small to support separate teams. In 1915 each school began supporting its own team, and the competition between the two schools started. The Emerson Teams began to go by the name, Emerson, instead of the Gary High School.

With the hope that this tale of the Emerson School will stir happy memories in some of its readers, we return to the task of helping the school make more history.

Assistant Principal

Our assistant principal, Mr. Bohn, came to Emerson in 1941, and in the time he has been here, he has achieved a great deal in school accomplishments and in friendship.

Mr. Bohn has given both his time and energy so that Emerson can keep its name of a "truly outstanding school."

Office Staff

The sale of football and basketball tickets, the issuing of lockers, and collecting of book rental would be impossible without the help of the members of our office staff. They also are in charge of the big headache of those blue slips, issuing text books to teachers, and checking that seniors have enough credits to graduate in June.

Teamwork is not found just on the football squad or the basketball team; it is definitely displayed by our office staff. Mrs. Biller handles her job with quiet patience, issuing of lockers, and keys. Florence Caulk, who graduated recently, does her share by collecting book rental and taking care of matters in Mr. Bohn's office. Marion Fickes. a '44 graduate, lists the absentees, also types, and takes care of the eternal books, Dorothy Palasz, the financial wizard, guards the massive cash register, where she collects lab fees and sells football and basketball tickets. Last, but not not least, we have Maurine Link whose quiet efficiency conceals her real importance to all of us.

Parents' Committee

Back row: Mr. Bohn, Mrs. Herold Herod, Mrs. Andrew Kaplar, Mrs. Regina Hall, guest, Mrs. Nettie Clements, Mr. E. A. Spaulding. Front row: Mrs. Peter Orr, Mrs. Steve Churchia, Mrs. Mrvichin, Mrs. Stephen Rashevich, Mrs. Wood.

In 1932 when Dr. Wirt was superintendent of our public schools, he suggested a committee of parents to meet and discuss the problems of students and teachers.

This committee proved to be a great success and has become well known as the Parents' Committee.

At the meetings, which are held every month, the parents become better acquainted with social and academic problems which are facing their own children, and they are better able to meet these problems at home.

Our Parents' Committee has come out on top of all their problems, and we are very grateful to them and their sponsor, Mr. Spaulding, for the fine work they have done.

The Emerson Community club is a new organization which meets once a month in the Emerson primary auditorium. The aim of the club is to bring the school and community, which it serves closer together. The club has about 150 members. Mrs. John A. Auld is president, Mrs. W. L. Plunkett, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Herold Herod, program chairman.

His Associates

"Blessed is the man who is happy in his occupation."

When we think of the spirit of Emerson, in the present and in the past, we always emphasize the warm friendliness which permeates the atmosphere of the building. When we asked the graduates and the men in service what they remember as its finest attribute and why they like to come back to visit at Emerson, they invariably said that everyone is cordial here, that it is bomelike and has become so much a part of their lives that they cannot forget.

It pleases us to hear these tributes; we are justly proud of that reputation.

When we asked the faculty what had contributed most toward this good feeling, they agreed that it was the harmony and close cooperation with which the teachers worked on projects and activities necessary to the social life and progress of the school; also to the pleasant association of working with a principal who gives few orders but believes so sincerely in the loyalty of his teaching staff, their high principles, and integrity that he inspires them to do thier best.

Any room or corridor in the building is a likely place for informal conferences between members of the faculty and their principal, Mr. Spaulding. On the opposite page, be is telling some of the "old timers" about one of our war bonor roll list who had been cited for gallantry in action.

Between bugs, smelly gases, and Archimedes' theory, our science classes are kept pretty much in an uproar with fun and excitement learning new and valuable facts.

LANGUAGE ARTS

Letter writing is the order of the day! Never have composition courses been more important. Write that V-Mail!

This year the language arts department has also emphasized South America and the "Good Neighbor" policy.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

The discussion of world problems and of politics became more important than before during this election and war year.

Our minds sail from the Social Science classes out toward India, France, and the Pacific where many of our own Emerson boys are fighting.

MATH AND COMMERCE

After all these years, the Mathematics department is still trying to find out what the well known Mr. X represents, while the Commercial department is kept busy producing more blossoming young stenographers.

The Commerce department has been generous in helping both the Emer-Sun and the Emersonian to produce.

We could not do without them!

AUDITORIUM

Auditorium is the hour that is packed full of both dread and entertainment.

We dread the thought of giving a speech and yet we are surrounded by music, laughter, drama, and variety of knowledge.

This year we were overjoyed to see results of Auditorium training when the movie, "Christmas Holiday" came to Gary, starring our own Dean Harens.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Emerson is the first school in Gary where a student was given the opportunity of studying and training in so many fields of vocational value thus giving us a foundation for the future. He Is Activity Minded

In Mr. Spaulding's office there hangs a large calendar on which all school activities are tabulated chronologically. Whenever a teacher or student seeks an open date for an event, that calendar is consulted.

For anyone coming into Emerson, no matter what talent be has, or lack of talent, there is some activity in which be can take part. There are different kinds of activities for all types of students.

In each social group in which he finds himself, he has an opportunity to make friends and to develop a new and different side of his character, thereby gaining self-confidence.

His knowledge and bis outlook on life are broadened by participating in all sorts of events and by assuming the responsibilities that come with taking an active part in extracurricular subjects.

Everyone cannot play a trombone; everyone cannot dance a rumba; everyone cannot win an oratory contest; everyone cannot play with the "Melody Makers." Everyone cannot lift his silver toned tenor in A Cappella Choir, nor can everyone act like Bette Davis. One must develop his character and enrich his life by participating in many activities until he finds one in which he is happy and at ease.

No matter what type of talent the student possesses, be should find the place where he belongs, and where he can give some service to the school body.

The Board of Control was organized in 1912 to establish more effective cooperation in our school. It was suggested by Mr. R. D. Chadwick, a teacher at Emerson at that time.

This organization was to be as closely connected as possible with city and state organizations in order that students might get first hand information on community problems. The election of the board each year follows the Indiana election laws and has a constitution defining its power and authority.

They meet once each month and have definite assignments of work to keep them more than busy.

The Board of Control does its work mainly through four standing committees: Booster Committee, Scholarship Committee, Social Committee, and the Building and Grounds Committee.

The success of the Board of Control has been due to the fact they have been given a reasonable amount of authority and allowed to use it with out interference.

Chester Bokich acted as president of the board until he left for the Coast Guard in December. The duties since then have been carried on by the Vice President, Eugene Miller

This student organization has for the past twenty-one years been under the efficient guidance of Mr. A. B. Carlberg, their sponsor.

The other committees which work with the Board of Control are the Building and Grounds Committee, the Booster Committee, and Scholarship Committee.

The Building and Grounds Committee, our so called Police Department, was really on the job this year. They introduced a new plan for hall order, which the students accepted and followed. They were led under the capable leadership of Robert Kaplar, President, and sponsored by Miss Ban.

The Booster Committee, which is composed of all the cheerleaders, and representatives from each class, is in charge of boosting all of the school's activities.

Our Scholarship Committee, under the direction of Miss Talbot, makes out the honor roll. This committee is composed of a representative from each register, who informs his register as to its good standing, and issues the eligibility list.

The Emerson Boys' Concert Band, led by drum major Charles Vargo, made its first appearance playing for the Golden Tornado football games. Other events included playing for the Teachers' Convention on October 27, and playing several patriotic selections on Armistice Day at the Legion Hut. Also, the band performed on January 19, when the R.O.T.C. awards were presented by Mr. Harold Maxwell of the Chicago Tribune, and Lt. Col. Chauncey H. Hayden, Professor of Military Tactics for the Gary Regiment.

The annual Boys' Band Concert was given April 13, in Memorial Auditorium. Under the brilliant and skillful leadership of director Hubert S. Warren the band has won many national, state, and county awards and contests.

Girls' Band

Emerson is one of the few schools in the county having an all girls' band,

The Girls' Band was first organized in 1923 by Mr. Warren with about 20 members, and has continued through these past 22 years with pride and of course has grown in size.

The war has prevented much of the band's activities, but in postwar days they will be out on top again, making tours and winning contests.

The band in its many years of success has played for patients at Hines Hospital, Lake County Tuberculosis Sanitarium, given concerts at the Palace Theatre, the Y.M.C.A., Ross and Portage High Sc.200ls, and of course many many other places.

The Girls' Band has participated in various High School contests ranging from city contests through county, sectional, and state to national contests. The band has had the honor of winning the Lake County Band Contest 5 times and has lost once. For a few years they had a twenty minute broadcast concert weekly over the local station WIKS.

The officers of the 1944-1945 girls' band are Adeline Kuchta, President; Angie Cappony, Vice President; Ruth Ann Waitt, Secretary; Norma Rodgerson, Property Manager; Betty Babilla, Manager; Pat Fisch, Librarian; Rosemary Felts, Assistant Librarian; Dolly Burton, Assistant Manager; Dorothy Flanders, Assistant Property Manager.

Their social event of the year was their annual concert held at the Memorial Auditorium, April 13.

The band is directed under the masterly baton of Mr. Warren and his assistant director, Mrs. Mistrovich.

In spite of the fact their social calendar is reduced in size, the girls still have loads of fun and can really give a wonderful concert.

Concert

The Concert Orchestra was actually begun in 1915-20 under the direction of Mr. Snyder. It consisted of about thirty pupils and the only time they had for rehearsal was in their lunch hours. It was intended to acquaint students with good orchestral literature; to give each student a chance to learn an orchestral instrument; if he so desired; to furnish appropriate music for school and community gatherings; and to provide ensemble experience for advanced instrumentalists.

In March of 1920 Mr. Warren came to Emerson, but he taught our band in the morning and went to Froebel in the afternoon.

In 1928 Mr. Warren took over the band and orchestra completely. During that time it was growing larger; and Mrs. Mistrovich came to Emerson in 1935.

Orchestra

The Concert Orchestra has given many successful concerts. Many of the students who have played in the orchestras of past years are well known musicians now.

There are now about eighty members in the orchestra. Two concerts were given this year, one on February 2, and one on May twenty-fifth; Bob Kaplar was the student director as well as the violin soloist at the concert; Keith Fink was the trumpet soloist.

On September 9, 1944, the members of the Emerson Concert Band elected officers to lend them proving that democracy rules even in the band room.

Each officer is allowed one day in the week to direct a few selections in order of his rank.

On December 17, 1944, the officers planned a Christmas party for the band and 22 dozens of doughnuts and 12 gallons of chocolate milk were devoured in the six hours.

The 1945 crop of officers proved to be as efficient as ever for the work their respective offices demand.

B. O. T. C. FACULTY

Cornoral Levy

The Emerson R.O.T.C. unit of "45" was one of the largest ever formed at Emerson. It had an enrollment of 234. A new hour at 10:30 was formed for the incoming caders.

On January 19, in an assembly in the auditorium, Lt. Col. Chauncey H. Hayden, Professor of Military Science and Tactics announced the cadet officers and winners of the Chicago Tribme medals. Lt. Col. Leland Meade Penrod received the third year medal, and 1st Sgt. Robert James Elwood received the second year medal. Expert and sharpshooter ratings were given to cadets who qualified for them on the range.

The annual Military Balls as held at the Gary Armory on the night of April 7. The awarding of officers', counsisions and non-const' warrants preceded the evening of dancing to the music of M'Ally Humphrey and his orchestra. Major George Alexander and 1st Sgt. John George received the Chicago Trihume awards for Military efficiency and Scholastic standing while Lt. Col. Leland Penrod and Tech. Sgt. Mike Maragos received the Rotary Club's award. Tech. Sgt. Carl Carnahan was the winner of the American Legion Auxiliary award for neatness. Rifle team presentations were given to Lt. Col. Keith Fink, Lt. Col. Leland Penrod, Capt. Ned Miller, H'Sgt. Milan Uzelac, S'Sgt. James Halvatgis, Pvt. James Carson, and Sgt. Pat Foster. Fink and Penrod also received awards for firing in the midwest matches at Culver. (Is their anyone of the fairer sex who would volunteer to help Leland Penrod carry all those meddas')

Emerson has had quite a few replacements of officers who were in charge of the unit. The year started out with Sgt. Bail Lee and Cpl. Joseph Levy. The Corporal was transferred to Louisville, Kentucky, and Sgt. Lee was taken to a hospital to recuperate from an illness. Sgt. Lee is now back and in the best of health. Sgt. Baxter, Sgt. Holland, adn Sgt. Davidson are now in charge of the Emerson unit. They receive their orders from Lt. Col. Chauncey H. Hayden, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, who is Gary's R.O.T.C. commander.

Emerson has twenty-five commissioned officers this year with one regimental Lieutenant Colonel, Leland M. Penrod, and one battalion Lt. Col. Keith I. Fink. The officers have a great responsibility in setting a good example for the cadets who aspire to be officers some day.

HOME ON THE RANGE---- R.O.T.C. STYLE

That grizzled old army veteran you students see walking around our halls with so many stripes on his sleeve that he looks like a walking barber pole is Master Sgt. Davidson seated to the left in the picture. The army has been his life since 1913 and he has oversas stripes from both World I and II. He has been retired from an active Captains' commission in this war, but like all real army men, he couldn't quite retire from the army yet. The gentleman to the right is Sgt. Holland, an ex M.P.; he does the book work for our battalion and spends his time after school teaching the first year cadest rifle marksmanship on our range.

Sgt. Davidson instructed and managed our rifle team at the armory each night.

Another year of war brought the combining of the Junior Prom and the Senior Farewell, usually held separately. More than 200 "Ladies and thier Knights" danced under white-and-geld colored, rose-covered arbors, to the sweet music of a former Emersonian, Mickey Idex.

The traditional Grand March was led by the Senior President, George Alexander, and his partner; Joan Schafer, second came the Junior President, Dick Colley, and his partner, Agnes McConnell. Following the presidents came the officers of the Junior and Senior classes in order of the March.

The elaborate programs, which carried out the theme, had the Emerson School crest in gold on a red felt background.

ANNUAL STAFF ADVISORS Miss Tappan, Miss Ban, Miss Beeler.

Teaching history isn't the only thing that Miss Ban does at Emerson; in fact, she ir esponsible for those in-between candy macks that we all enjoy each day. Getting candy wasn't an easy matter, but Miss Ban and her able assistants, Marianne Petrakos and Irene Pawlowski, certainly came thorugh with flying colors. Also helping with the sales were Berry Aton, Gwendolyn Timmerman, Berty Fedorchak, Pauline Hicks, Mary Thanos, Millie Churchia, Marceil Haviland, Bernie Brummer, Ann Yaselsky, Georgiann Cortiss, Leda Andersen, and Adriann Bocskay, who gave their study hall hours each day to assist us. Each vear the candy sellers work for the benefit of the Emersonian, and we want to extend a well carned "thank you" to each and every one of them.

Not only do we owe a "thanks" to the candy sellers, but also to the Annual Sales Staff, whose untiring effort sold about 75% of the annuals this year. Miss Beeler heads this staff, whose star sellers are: Mary Scorich, Helen Pany, and Alice Pinkowski.

Grey hairs, headaches, and more grey hairs!! These are the rewards for a hard working yearbook staff. Just take a look around you at all the "Yours truly's," and you'll see what we mean when we say that publishing a year book in wartime is no bed of roses.

Hard work was plentiful, but supplies were sometimes lacking. At times we had a camera; at times we had the boy to take the pictures. It was a miracle if the two ever met at one time, at one place, and for the same purpose. The staff was a little behind on its work because of our belated starr; but it didn't prevent us from plunging head on into the pile of work that was writing for us.

At first, we worried for fear we couldn't have padded covers or the beautiful color scheme whad "rigged up." Hash bulls were as searce as hen's teeth. When half of our problems were finally straightened out, we discovered that the majority of our staff members decided to take a week's vacation by punching the dime store clocks during the Christmas rush week. When we hoped we had some left in our clutches, someone would be found up in the rifle range trying to add a few more medals to his collection, or he was on his way to Hammond to rent a tuxel of or the prom. It seems that the annual staff does everything else in the building besides the year book But, as someone must have surely sold at one time or another, "It's all in a day's work."

On October 9th, while we were still in our toddling stage, we ventured out on a cold winter's night to the Annual Publication Conference at Horace Mann School, at which Editor H. B. Snyder of the Post Tribune spoke on "Racial Relationship." We were proud of our representative speaker, Anna Belle Releiy, who spoke on "Sidelines."

Similar to previous years, the Booster Committee gave a pep session for us, and on March 20, the staff held a benefit dance for the purpose of choosing the ten senior personalities. After the dance the staff enjoyed an informal party at the home of Warren Johnson, where his parents served refreshments.

Our greatest hour of disappointment came near the end of the year with the book already in the hands of the printer. We found ourselves with no covers. After the first moment of shook had passed, we began a wild scout about the countryside for a cover, and at such a late date, we could not get the colors which we wanted. If you are anxious to know the colors we had planned, get a staff member in a corner someday and ask him, but we doubt if hell tell vous

In the first week of April our boys' editor, Rudy Romisher, left us to join the Navy. Connie kept on going with her share of the responsibility; and we know that the staff was minus a wonderful worker and we missed him every minute. Good luck to you, Rudy!

Lighting the learner's path

The sign of scholar's faith

These are the inspiring words of the song "To You We Throw the Torch"; a song which typifies one of the aims of the Senior Honor Society.

The induction was the same impressive ceremony of past years. Many parents, students, and members of the faculty were witnesses to the candle-lit services. Afterwards visitors were invited to a tea held in the Home Economics room.

At its annual induction on April fourth, eighteen students chosen by the faculty committee, Mrs. Greenwald. Miss Tappan, Miss Newton, Mr. Carlberg, Mr. Warrum, Mr. Flinn, Miss Talbot, and Mr. Spaulding, were inducted on the basis of leadership, scholarship, character, and service. Dr. Paul Weinandy, the guest speaker, gave an inspirational talk on Tolerance.

Under the supervision of Miss Tappan and Mr. Harrison, the society has sent the Emer-Sun News to each of Emerson's men in service from the classes of '44 and '45. It was a hard task, but because the thought behind the work was so worthwhile, it was always done. The social committee has generously paid the postase for this project.

"Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character" are all important in our life. Those who have achieved even a part of these in junior high school, are given the honor of being made members of the Junior Honor Society.

This group includes at present 65 members, sponsored by Miss Lortz. The officers this year are: president, Greta Isenberg; vice president, Leslie Glenn; secretary, Leonora Taylor; and treasurer, Billy Wood.

Once a year new members are inducted; this year the induction was held on May 22, when 28 new members were admitted.

The Junior Honor Society members enjoyed a Christmas Party on December 2 in the girls' gym; games were played; carols were sung; and refreshments were served.

The symbol of the Junior Honor Society is the burning, golden torch. All who wear this symbol have tried to achieve the important fundamentals of junior high school

DRAMATIC CLASS

Graduation may close the dramatic careers of many students. For others, the dramatic work of high school may serve as a background for the further study in this field. All, however, have profited richly from their experiences, since every-day speech plays a vital role in life.

The Senior Dramatic Class puts variety into daily studies it is beneficial in building up personalities, and it is pleasant and entertaining to the participants as well as the studenty body.

The members, ranging from each grade level, are chosen by holding tryouts at the beginning of the semester. The students form committees in which they took actual part in the arrangements of the stage lighting, stage props, costumes, and make-up, in the production of a play. Each person is given the opportunity to direct and make all arrangements for one play each year.

Some of the class' outstanding presentations of the year were their one-act plays: "The Boor"; "Thanks Awfully," and the "Jeweled Hand." "Forbidden" was their Christmas play. They also took their part in "Spice and Variety" where they gave a brief review of "Drama in the Making."

Their traditional big production, "Everyman," was given once again at Easter time and was repeated Monday night April 9, for the benefit of other dramatic classes of the city.

Since the retirement of Miss Paul, Mrs. Palmer has taken the part of the Dramatic instructor.

The Seniors chose Letters to Lucerne for their play this year. The play opens near Lucerne, late in the summer of 1939, in Madame Rameau's American school for girls. Attending the school are girls from England, Germany, France, Poland, and America.

The war with Germany has already begun, but under the protection of a wise and pleasant school-mistress, the girls are living an idyllic life, apart from the hatred of the rest of the world. As the play progresses, the conflict between Erna, the German girl, and the other girls gest deeper and deeper, but like many good plays it has a happy ending.

Mrs. Gertrude Palmer directed the play, which was given in the afternoon and evening of May 11.

After the play many alumni attended the Senior Homecoming Dance which was held in the girls' lower gym.

The war has changed us in many ways, but I think the most important change is the lack of men. The juniors solved the male problem of a leading man, however. They didn't have one. Yes! The cast was wholly feminine.

The cause of all the trouble was a man, though. (As usual). And believe me there was plenty of trouble! Under Nydia Marbles' (Anna Mac Chervenak) expert and practiced hands the incidents soon involved everyone in plenty of, shall we say, "hot water"? The other characters were played by Marcia Barrett, Dolores Barrick, Barbara Smith, Julia Motta, Carol Miller, Alice Weiss, Kathryn George, Jackie Smith, Nelle Burns, Agnes McConnell, and Josephine Fernandez.

We'll certainly have to hand it to these girls for the wonderful job they did. Also, which also considered the play. With a background like this play we are looking forward to many more triumphs.

OUR INVESTMENT IN VICTORY

We students at Emerson have tried to back up those who are serving our country on the war front by doing our bit on the home front.

Our achievements include the many projects of All Out Americans, a junior civilian defense organization, organized in Gary and accorded national recognition for its war activities. This group was organized in 1942 to help conduct the scrap-metal salvage drive. We at Emerson with the aid of the high school students collected 15,400 pounds of scrap in this drive. Since that time we have collected about 175,000 pounds of waste paper and additional scrap. Our war stamp booth has been open every day from eight to four since Pearl Harbor.

Our total record of stamps and bonds sold until March amounts to over $190,000.00.

Last year we carned enough to buy nineteen jeeps, although our aim was only five. This year we made our goal the purchase of five field ambulances. We sold enough bonds and stamps to buy nine of them and had $795.00 left over.

We are now trying to buy at least six weasels during the seventh War Loan Drive. The cost of these is $4,815.00 each.

This report does not include our Red Cross activities, victory gardens, child care program, jundo policemen and fireman activities, model airplane building, and several hundred garments made for Russian children this year. We feel that we have told you enough to make you realize that Emerson Students are really trying to be "ALL OUT AMER-ICANS."

He Is A Sportsman

Mr. Spaulding, principal of Emerson School, has never lost his enthusiasm for athletics. As a student in both high school and college, he was always active in many branches of sports. He still plays a mighty good game of tennis as many of the students will testify. He is a firm believer that a strong body is as necessary as an active mind. In fact, he sincerely believes that both are necessary for a happy life. We know of no principal who is more interested or fairer in his attitude towards school activities. He believes that athletics is both for the individual who participates and also for the student body, if properly regulated. It should be a part of the school program and an outgrowth of school loyalty.

He enjoys making a trip with the team and does go on many of them. He attends practically every home game. He loves to see his students develop into a well organized team.

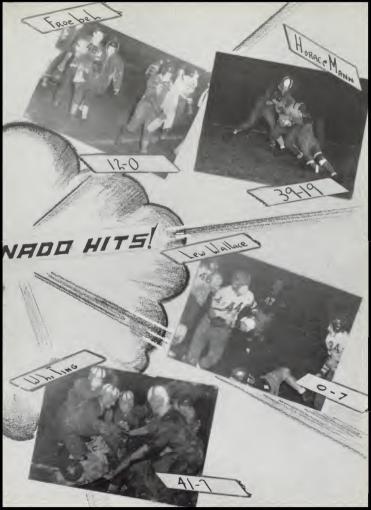

Being an athlete himself, he knows the value of good equipment and always wants his teams adequately dressed and protected. He has always encouraged the coaches to develop the best team possible with available material, but he has never said "you must have a minner." With such a fine spirit existing, our teams are seldom at the bottom, and they usually are rugged competition.

The student body and coaches appreciate his enthusiastic attitude toward their school athletics program.

ATHLETICS

THE NORSEMEN DISH IT OF

Seventeen years ago Emerson received one of its greatest benefits. This was the coming of a man from Carleton College, Class of 1918, to become the ball coach here at Emerson.

His coaching idea was not only to make an athlete of each of the boys, but to make a man of each one. Of course, that man is our football mentor, Arthur I. Rolfe.

At the annual football banquet on November twenty-ninth, in appreciation of his enthusiastic and loyal service to the team and to Emerson, the members of the football team presented him with a fur lined leather jacket.

Gene Miller and Louis Karras were chosen co-captains for the 1945-46 grid season. Louis Karras was again Emerson's lone representative of the first All Conference Team. Emmett Bosak, John Chontos, Gene Miller, and Bill Costley represented Emerson on the second All Conference Team.

FOR YOU, O DEMOCRACY

Come, I will make the continent indissoluble,
I will make the most splendid race the sun ever shone upon,
I will make divine magnetic lands,
With the love of comrades,
With the life-lone love of comrades.

I will plant companionship thick as trees along all the rivers of America, and along the shores of the great lakes, and all over the prairies,

I will make inseparable cities with their arms about each other's necks,

By the love of comrades,

By the manly love of comrades.

The Reserves, using the Freshmen as their appetizer, went on undefeated and untied to win five consecutive games and also the City Championship.

Quarterback, George Hansen, sparked the scoring parade with a total of 43 points. A rugged line paced by the play of center, Bob Apathy, cleared the road for a "team total" of 102 points while yielding only 33. The 1944 Reserve Rolfemen showed great promise of developing into a championship team in 1945.

The 1944 Freshmen lost their first game of the season to the fighting Blue Devils of Trobel. The game was played in the mud on Froebel field. The ever fighting "Junior Tornado" fought to the end, but were defeated by score of 13 to 7. The Tornado rolled over the remaining foes by decisive scores. Ben Wolfe contributed major ground gains and let the scoring with 30 points, Bill Kuckuck proved to be a triple threat and was second in scoring with 27 points.

Emerson Football Highlights

Horace Mann was the first to feel the whirl of the Golden Tornado as Bill Costley sparked the backfield with his collections of first downs for the team. Emerson spotted the Horsemen 13 points in the first 5 minutes and with Gene Miller's brilliant run of 65 yards to pay dirt, won once more the opening game by a score of 39-19.

Tolleston retreated to the cellar when "Heap Big" Louis Karras stopped the Raiders and "Jolting Joe" cold. Bill Costley and "The Galloping Greek," Mike Coutouzis, shared the backfield honors with a touchdown each: Score. 20-6.

The Tornado proved its mechanism wasn't rusty when it handed a 41-7 beating to the Oilers of Whiting. Coutouzis rambled 80 yards for one of his three touchdowns, and Bob Yesh, proved his worth in the left guard berth in the place of Carl Carnahan, who, although injured previously, came in to kick 6 of 7 conversions.

The next victims of the Tornado powerhouse were the already known Bears of South Bend Central. "Bulldozer" Boask paced the Emerson drive with his potent plunging while on the line, "Fox" Nick Miller stopped the Bears' backfield at the expense of a broken ankle.

The Wildcats of Hammond were teamed into meek little Persian kittens by the Emersons by a score of 27-0. End, Bob Elliott, scored on a beautiful pass from Gene Miller to provide a safe margin.

The term of the Senators from Washington E. C. expired as our boys took the three Ze-15. Bosak's two touchdowns and Gene Miller's 30 yard sprint copped the backfield honors while center. Jack Schaff, showed hidden track talent by pulling down the fastest man on the Washington squad from behind.

"Who's next, please?" The Emersonians grabbed the Benton Harbor Tigers by their tall and threw them for a 40-6 loss. Again Bosak scored 3 more touchdowns and Gene Miller's S8 and 40 yard runs featured Emerson's strive for a perfect season. "The Golden Greek," John Bizanes, and Bill Costley sparked the forward wall.

The Rolfemen waded to a 13-0 victory over Froebel in the sloshing mud of Gleason Field. Louie Karras proved to be a good "Mudder" at his right tackle spot. "Emmett" Bosak once more led the offense.

The largest crowd of the 1944 grid scason witnessed the most crucial game of the year. The Tornado powerhouse was at last (alast) slowed down, and the Hornets of Lew Wallace slid past the Norsemen to a 7-0 decision, thus ending Tornado hopes for a perfect season, the N. I. H. S. C. Western Division title, and possibly for the State Championship.

Although the team won no state championship or great honors as a gridiron eleven, all Emerson is proud of one of its greatest teams.

We appreciate how hard the fellows and Coach Rolfe have worked and fought to make a successful season.

WILLIAM "BILL" KLUG

Coach Klug has been producing winning teams since he came to Emerson in 1942. His genial smile and winning ways have won the hearts of all the boys (and girls!). A product of our old rival, Horace Mann, he has now concentrated his talents on producing backetball teams that whipped all comers, including his alma mater, Mann.

Here is an account of the scores that "Bill" and the Class Basketball

In early December the Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen met to select teams. Each class was divided into three teams; the A, B, and C teams.

In January the league games were played to determine the winner of each division. The Senior A, Junior B, and Junior C proved to be "tops" in their respective divisions. The tournament was played in early March, and in the final game the Junior A eased by the Senior A by a score of 27 to 26. The champions received medals for their efforts.

CROSS COUNTRY

One of Emerson's most genial teachers is our crosscountry coach, safety teacher, and head of the Safety Patrol. This, of course, is the wonderful whitehaired Mr. Werner, fondly known to the pupils as "Pop."

"Pop" Werner

The Emerson Cross Country Harriers were all new to the sports, with the exception of their captain, Joe Aydelotte, who is now wearing the blues of the Navy.

The men who received major letters were Robert Shesler, manager; Joe Aydelotte, captian; John Donley, Edward Orgon, John Frame, and Ralph Olis. Miner letters were awarded to James King, Bob Kaplar, Dick Swan, Norman Kaplan, Bob Crane, John King, Ray Komlenich, and Leo Settle.

Although these boys were new, they ran a good tough race, and closed their season with a challenge that promises victory for next year.

TBACK

The Norse thinclads are putting forth a strong well balanced team upon the cinders this season. Led by Captain Gene Miller in the hurdles, Mike Maragos and Dick Colley in the dashes, and Ed Carija in the 440 and 880 yd. runs, present a formidable array of point collectors. Other petent point collectors are Bob Elliott and Joe Jancarich, shot put; Joe Minnitti, pole xault; Don McGuire, hurdles; John Donley and John Frame, mile run. Much is to be expected of the half mile relay team of Maragos, Colley, Carija, and Miller.

TRACK

Running: Bob Elliott, Mike Adams, Dick Colley, Mike Maragos.

In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of track. (Anyway, it says so here.) The quotation may not be stated entirely correctly, but when the birds and the bees herald signs of spring, a young man's fancy literally does yearn for the trackfield, where he can let off all of his loose energy saved up through the bitter winter, and gallop around to his heart's content.

Don't get us wrong, boys; we don't expect you to turn into human greyhounds, but bring home the points for Emerson.

It is the most democratic organization to which girls in high school can belong. It's not a select group; on the contrary, it's for all who are willing to work for the athletic points which give the privilege of belonging.

When cold weather sets in, not only with the boys, but also with the girls, the center of attraction is basketball, another major sport which is really played in earnest.

Girls' basketball is played on different bases than the boys' basketball, because boys' basketball is too strenuous for girls. Instead of the guards and forwards using all the floor as the boys do in their basketball games, the forwards and guards on the girls' teams can not go over the middle line.

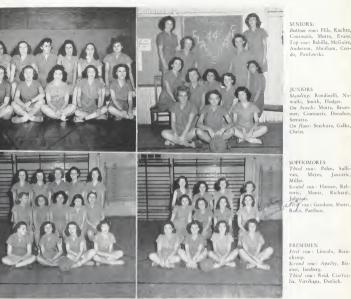

There are three guards and three forwards on a team, instead of two guards and two forwards, and center as the boys have on their teams.

This year the girls swarmed in bee hives as usual to sign up for active duty in class teams. One of Emerson's "as-bestest" athletes, Angie Cappony, acted as basketball head for the second year.

The seniors came forth in basketball by winning over their opponents, the under-

Interschool basketball was discontinued this year which was very disappointing to the girls, but again they competed with the boys and gave them exciting competition. Sad but true, each class team was defeated by them.

Speedball started the girls' sport season with Do Do Hile as a very efficient speedball head!

Speedball is related to soccer, basketball, football, and hockey.

It's played on the same field as hockey. It has five forwards, three half-backs, two fullbacks, and a goaly, which guards the goal.

Each point scored consists of two points, and the free kick consists of one.

Those girls who are in the G. A. A. and the girls who want to join the G. A. A. play this game at the beginning of the year for points.

After they play eight games, they earn one hunred points. Then varsity is chosen.

This year the captains of the four varsity teams were Delores Gile, senior; Martha Svantner, junior; Angeline Muniz, sophomore; and Estelle Bizanes, freshman.

The weather provided a fine turn out, and the season ran smoothly, and was over too soon for the ontdoors sport lovers.

There was a tough fight between the seniors and juniors for for the Championship, but the juniors proved themselves "kings," and the senior hopes were dimmed by the junior victory.

The trumphant season was ended with a speedball "spread" where Mrs. Benfield gave all concerned more than enough to eat.

He Counsels His Classes

At Emerson there is considerable rivalry between the four classes in their social activities, plus bonor roll, and extra curricular projects. For several years each class bas had a committee of sponsors which elects a chairman. Each class has its own dance and except for the freshmen each class invites members of the other classes as their guests. Each class has two class meetings during the year in the auditorium. Mr. Spaulding always takes time to talk at these class meetings.

This year Mrs. Reyber has been the chairman of sponsors for the freshmen; Mr. Flinn, for the sophomores; Miss Ban for the Juniors and Miss Grieger for the Seniors. They have spent many extra bours on outside activities for which the classes wish to express their sincere appreciation.

In the class rooms it has been a turbulent year. Many of the older students left for the service; due to the war, there is constant tension; changes in curriculum are in the air. One definite change will be the teaching of American Literature in the third year instead of the fourth. There will be more emphasis on American History and institutions. In social science classes, the trend is toward analysis of current events, and economic as well as place geography; more students are showing an interest in science and mathematics. This is a changing and expanding world in which we live; the bigh school must keep hace with it.

On the right, in her World History class, Miss Ban is explaining to Jackie Reside, Bob Friedman, Marianne Kominsky, Delores Previs, and Deno Kottardis the importance of realization that we are only one member of the world of nations.

The Freshman class held its Freshman Frolic on March 16, 1945. In good Irish custom, the gym was decorated in green and white with shamrocks scattered along the wall. in keeping with the St. Patrick's day theme.

The class officers are Richard Swan, President; Robert Urban, Vice President; Ricahrd Elson, Secretary; Donald Dimonja, Boys' Treasurer; and Dolores Molna, Girls' Treasurer. The class colors are red and white; their flower, the rose; and their motto is "Always Higher." The Freshman sponsors are Mrs. Reyhner, Miss Smith,

Miss Rowe, Mrs. Pierce, Miss Ekeberg, and Mr. Warrum. The frolic committee was headed by Paul Angotti, chairman; in the decorations committee were Margaret Apathy, Robert Cross, Jean Hampton, Robert Hybar of Ger, Olga Dottlich, Ben Wolff, Don McGuire, and Don Kepshire. On the entertainment, were Greta Isenberg, Jerry Levenberg, Beatrice McLeod, Richard Green, Barbara Rhynearson, James Sisamis, Nick Roytan, and Leslie Glenn.

The Freshman class held a reception in the cafeteria for parents and teachers on December 14th. The object was to discuss school problems and make teachers and parents better acquainted.

The Constitution Committee consisted of Maryanne Reid, chairman; Dolore Klimazewski, Nick Roytan, Gertald Levenberg, Jenne Charlebois, and Boris Apestoloff. The flower and color committee consisted of Leanora Taylor, chairman, Paul Walker, Wanda Claude, Mary Thanos, Bill Platis, and Jerry Jerasimo. On the motto committee were Donald Levy, chairman, Isabel Espinoza, Lorretta Martinez, Robert Combs, Patsy Little, and Bill Kuckuck.

After a full year of being called "greenies," the Sophomores started our their second year of high school with the grand feeling of finally "Belonging" to the high school set. Their first major task of the year was selecting capable officers to head their class. They chose the following students: Irene Shots, president; William Kane, vice president; Edward Orgon, secretary; Henry Wegerzyn, boys' treasurer; and Angeline Muniz, girls' treasurer.

In early November Mrs. Palmer directed their class play, "Seven Little Rebels," which turned out to be a great success.

Their big night was March 23, when the Sophonore Hop was held in the girls' lower gym. The decorations were all in the palest Easter Parade. Co-chairmen for the Hop were Vernice Mayes and James King. Those assisting them were Darlene Taylor, Paul Sopko, John Olenik, Jack Egan, Sadie Färley, Florence Jancarich, Joyce Banker, and Dorothy De Shazo. The Sophomore sponsors, who were interested in making the Hop a success were led by Mr. Flinn; the others were Miss Tappan, Mrs. Greenwald, Miss Talbor, Miss Gwinn, and Miss Tinsman.

Ordering classrings is always a big moment in the high school careers of juniors, and this year was no exception. This procedure occurred in early October, but we had to wait patiently until their arrival in February.

Next came the most thrilling and looked forward to occasion of the year. That, of course, was the Junior Prom which was held at the Masonic Temple on February 3rd. One part of the decorations for the prom was an impressive honor roll with the names of the fellows in the service from the graduating class of "95.9"

The first "get together" that the juniors had was on Febraury 28th in the auditorium. The president, Dick Colley, presided over the meeting and introduced the class officers. The financial report of the Prom was given with the auditorium department offering to pay a share of the expenses, Humorous reviews of the Junior Play "No Man's Land" were given as a conclusion to the meeting. The play, which was sponsored by Miss Ekeberg and given on March 2nd, turned out to be a great success.

1945 SENIORS

GEORGE ALEXANDER, President

NED MILLER, Secretary

DOROTHY KEPSHIRE, Girls' Treasurer

BOB ELLIOTT, Boys' Treasurer

DONNA LITTLE, Vice President

It's a tough assignment to pack into a few words all the glorious memories of our Senior year, to tell all of the gay unforgettable moments, the disappointment, poignant and tragic too, that will never come assin as they used to be the Christmas pageant, the basketball tournament, and so many other things we shared.

In the years to come we'll look back and say, "Remember?" and the rush of past scenes will be there, such as, the Prom in January so that all the fellows would still be here to go, of uniforms and dress suits at the Prom, of "Spiece," the Senior play, the silly jokes, the arguments on the footwarmers.

All of us changed this year even though it was hardly noticeable. Each time one of our classmates left for the Service, we felt a little sad and a little lost without the friends who had become so much a part of our life here together.

And now, with Commencement and Baccalaureate looming ahead, we realize we have many of our happiest days left behind at Emerson.

SPONSORS Mr. Carlberg, Miss Grieger, Miss Sayers, Miss Beeler, Mr. Harrison, Miss Hodge, Mr. Werner.

Here they are! Seniors of outstanding quality and personality, chosen by you from the senior class of '45. We hope that you too are "hep to the jive jargon" as they are, for you won't find any satisfactory word explanations in Daniel Webster. This is the talk of the "Bobby Sox" Parade, so if you don't understand what we're talking about, jump on the band wagon with us and get "hep."

Taking it for granted that these Jolly Jills and Joes represent the different phases of the ultra-modern coke crowd, let's assume, Watson, that all of them dote on Harry James' records, french fries, cokes and VAN JOHNSON. To say nothing about the other things they manage to squeese into their spare time. Yes sir, we're "cooking with gas" when we say that these fellows are all around characters.

IN REVIEW

SEPTEMBER -

School begins . . . lost of new faces . . , whole school on warpath with wild cry of "NO ANNUAL" (We finally won, Hehl) Miss Tappan sponsors the 1945 Emersonian. Irene Kuchta, who was chosen "Miss Gary Gigaretic," turns down offer from John Powers. (Easy girls). First senior class meeting with President George Alexander introducing the class officers and making plans for a mid-winter prom.

OCTOBER -

"D-Day" (Diploma Day) ain't far away, so we start ordering our announcements and calling cards. A committee headed by chairman Sam Sargis and Miss Grieger, Senior sponsor, selected the style for the class of "45." Emerson becomes photogenic. -- everybody taking class pictures (aw nertz!) First edition of The Emer-Sun News goes on sale October 2, 1944.

NOVEMBER -

Sophomores started off the 11th month by giving "Seven Little Rebels" as their class play . . . Booster Committee sponsors Apple Day . . statistics . . . 426 apples sold at 10c each. (Hmm, a thriving business!)

Yearbook pep session says, "Get hep to the jive, buy an annual in "45." Armistice day. . . we face the east with a solemn prayer as the bugle sounds taps. Roosevelt re-elected to a 4th term. Seniors discussing and exchanging politicans' views in halls and classes. (Okay, so Dewey lost—here's your money).

Mr. W. W. Wright, Dean of Indiana University Freshman Division, speaks to graduating seniors in the auditorium. (Typical question—"are you going to college??)

Annual football banquet—27 receive major letters. (Oliver even got one!) Gene Miller and Louis Karras elected co-captains. Donna Little voted football queen.

DECEMBER -

Emerson students swarm Gary stores for Christmas work. Hey! Where are all the seniors? (War effort, you know!) Invitations given to Alice Syler, Bob Elwood, Dorothy Davis, Anna Belle Reily, Mike Coutuouzis, Irene Pawlowski, Frieda Bando, and Enid Moise by Senior Honor Society. Honor Society sees "Winged Victory" in Chicago with Miss Tappan. (Talking about snow, wheely.

Traditional Christmas Pageant, "The Birthday of a King," Annual holiday tournament—Emerson nosed out in finals, 40 to 38. (Grrt!) Prom Committee headed by Chairman Charles Bewick, sponsors, Miss Harrison and Miss Benscoter, meets weekly to plan for the 1945 prom.

1945 called "Puppet Year"—(Everybody's walking around with dolls.) Social dancing begins . . . (Where's the R.O.T.C. every Thursday??)

JANUARY -

Mr. Montgomery keeps busy shoveling snow (P.S. It snowed again today). This makes 45 consecutive days of snow! Emerson's own "Melody Makers" claimed 10ps at Y.W.C.A. dance by high schoolers. The Scrbs and the Persians missed having another holiday—(New Year's was on Sunday).

Day of mourning and torment—EEEK-O-NOMICS test on second day after vacation. R.O.T.C. commissions given out in auditorium. Leland Penrod and Elwood receive medals from The Chicaso Tribune. Tuxedo shortage (The seniors and juniors got their first). This day should go down in History . . . Bob Rottenberg did something right in annual staff! Or should we say ?????. Anshel Rackoff actually took the pictures he had scheduled. (Miss Tappan is recovering beautifully from the shock).

FEBRUARY ---

Orchestra Concert — Bob Kaplar and Keith Fink, soloists. Junior-Senior Prom held on Feb. 3rd. (Feb. 4th—Uggh). Emerson beats Valpo in the first game of the sectionals, 50 to 27; Wallace 40 to 39; Horace Man, 37 to 35, and wallops Kouts in the climax game 60 to 16, to win the Gary Sectional Fourney. (Call out the fire dept!—Emerson students build massive bon-fire after sectionals.) Emer-Sun News sponsors "Jack and Jill" elections.

Bob Elliott and Dorothy Kepshire voted as most outstanding senior boy and girl.

Emerson's servicemen come home again. Bill Levack, Bob Kemp, "Boobse" Lazar, Joo Zeman, John Koleetis, Bob Umpleby, Bob Cannon, Fred Bednar, George McKinney, Bill Sullivan, and Jack Palmer roam the halls of Emerson and warm the foot-warmers again. More Emersonians leave in February. (They either come or gol') They include: Merritt Lesch, Julian Kaplan, Ted Young, and Bob Carver. (You'd think there was a war on!)

Senior Honor Society inductions: 18 new members inducted.

Military Ball held on 7th . . . Emerson's officers receive commissions and medals. Entire school as well as city stunned by the death of our great president, Franklin Delano Roosevelt Students rated Rosevelt as 'One of the Greatest.'

Director H. S. Warren selects Friday the 13th for the combined bands concert. Nothing happened . . . yet! (Delayed action) State solo contest at Whiting. Emerson's instrumentors walk off with the contest earning many medals.

MARCH -

Third month enters "Like a Lamb."

Juniors present "No Man's Land" on March 2. Oh!

Goodie! More Tuesday matinee dances!

Warren Johnson speaks before Rotary Club on Peace and the Air Age: Rotary's Opportunity.

Oh! Those wonderful janitors! We get a 5 day vacation because of janitor's strike. "Play" is resumed on the 15th.

Annual staff personality dance . . . 10 personalities chosen.

(Our casualtics mounted as the ballots were counted.) (Motto)

Emer-Snn News sponsors "Prince Charming" and "Cinderella" elections. Dick Colley and Helen Donahoe chosen as outstanding junior boy and girl. Senior dramatic class presents traditional Everyman.

MAY —

Senior play "Letters to Lucerne" May 11th and homocoming dance.

Orchestra concert.

Class day and memorial committees meet to plan for our class day.

APRIL —

April Fool's Day and Easter share the same day. (It was Easter until about 6:30 p.m.)

Awr! Back to school after another one of those vacations.

JUNE -

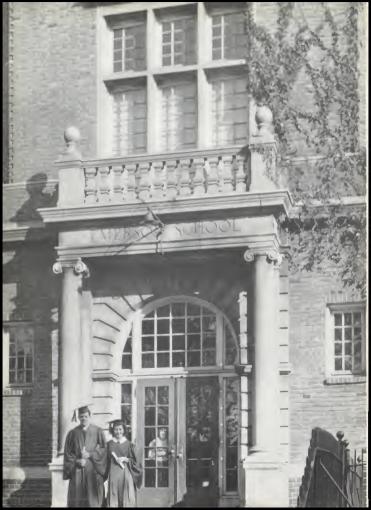

Vocal groups present annual Spring Festival. Senior Stunt day. (It's surprising how many seniors can act. (?)

Senior Class Day. Highlights were, the announcing of the Ralph Brassemle award winner and the transmission of the seeptor by our president, George Alexander, to the Junior president, George Colley. Convocation—Our last romp down Broadway in caps and gowns.

"Pomp and Circumstance" drew tears at commencement as we march down the aisle of Memorial Auditorium.

and gave the valedictory and the salutatory respectively.

Thus we ended the last of our years at our beloved school, Emerson, which we shall remember forever.
